

WHAT MAKES YOUNG PEOPLE GROW?

seminar

Propósito
Inadiável

21.06-26.06.2022 Castelo de Vide, Portugal

seminar' background

the idea

Any entity with good intentions and any "youth / social worker" always has a great need to ask themselves about what they do and how they do it. To understand if it is valid and if it will be useful for those with whom and for whom we work, young people and society.

Our project aims to bring together a certain number of workers in the youth field for a few days to reflect, analyze, debate and conclude on topics, methodologies and tools that will be "the ground" where we will work in the immediate future. The youth and the surrounding communities have the most varied problems to be solved and we have to know how to intervene in order to mitigate the negative impacts.

Our Vision

Much has been done, but there is so much to do. We believe that it will be important to introduce changes in the approach so that work that has to be innovative, aggregating and enhancing is not transformed into daily routine actions.

Outline of the seminar

This seminar brings together 44 participants (including 5 facilitators) representing 18 organizations from 14 program countries.

The work programme consist of debates, thematic meetings, presentation of the conclusions of the meetings and an Open Space Technology.

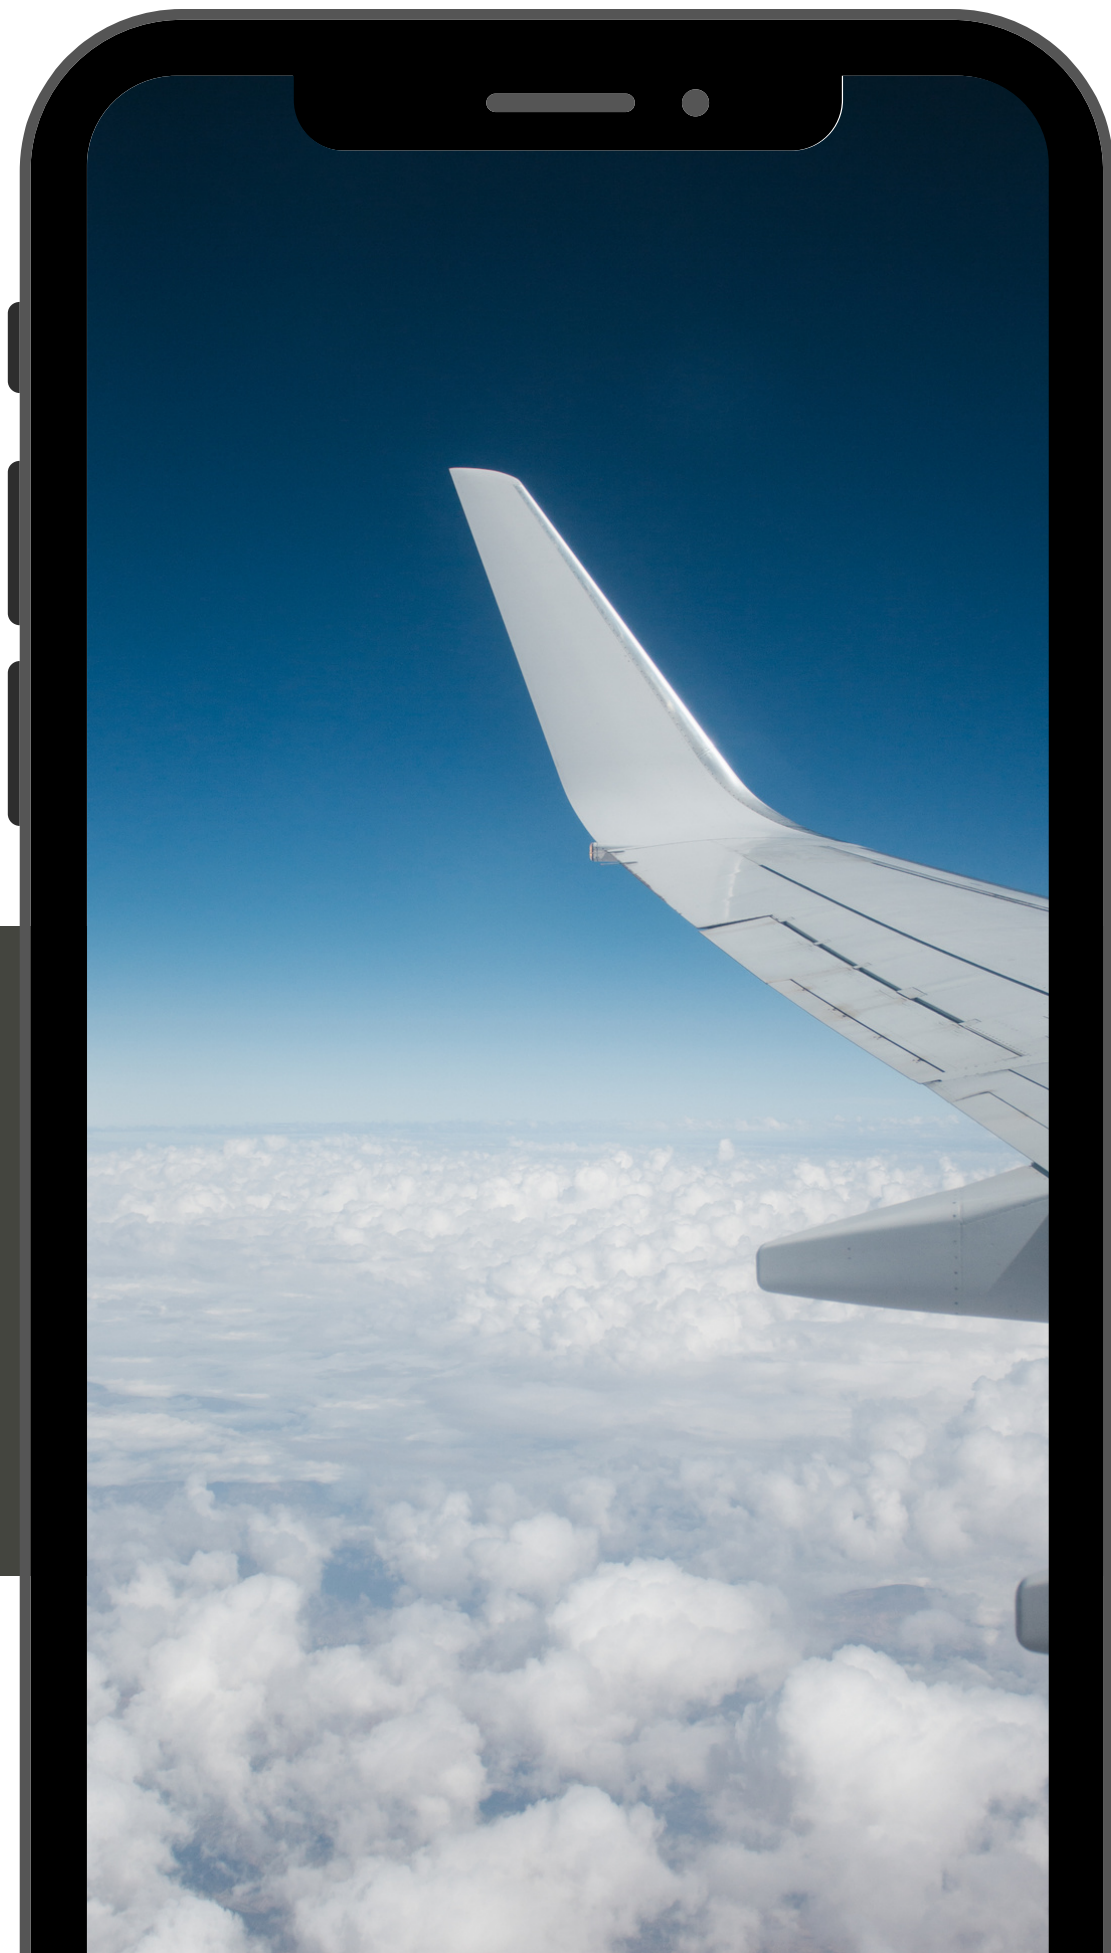

The participants will be mostly youth workers, some professionals and other volunteers, associative leaders, teachers and up to 2 representatives of the parents' commissions of two schools in the region.

Impact of the seminar

When knowledge is generated and skills are improved, there will always be a positive impact.

The participants, when leaving Castelo de Vide, will be aware of the challenges ahead, but prepared because they bring added value with them. The intended results are the reinforcement of competences and the learning of new methodologies by the participants, the awareness of the new paths to be followed and the certainty that they are accompanied in the work they do when they are part of a support network to work with the young.

We also want the participants to understand that it is not enough to do the work with quality, it is necessary for society in general to realize the importance that this work has. We need to make it more visible and recognized .
